

It is the right of every business in the United States to provide it's customers with the programming that they want. If other's cannot provide this service, then it is the fault of them, not us. Do not let them take away the service we enjoy.